

Day 28

Week 7

1. i can understand stage fright joe read aloud
2. However he continued if i might could talk into a tape recorder i might not be so scared

Circle the pronouns and underline the antecedents.

3. He ran after his dad.
4. Jennie wanted her doll for bedtime.
5. The rabbit hopped into its hole.

Day 29

1. i read the prose poem titled aunt fannie last night and i could relate to it my mother is irish and my father is mexican
2. The culture belend in our house is amazing we eat pot roast with jalapenos

Circle the pronoun and underline the antecedents.

3. They will help you with your work themselves.
4. The teacher gave us homework every day, and she made our lives miserable.
5. The dog stayed in its yard all night instead of coming inside.

Day 30

1. what does martin espada means when he says this is a rice and beans success story janine pondered
2. it means jacqueline explained that you can come from an ethnic neighborhood and be successful

Identify the pronouns in each sentence.

3. The new car is his.
4. Yours will be here tomorrow.
5. I like theirs best.

Day 31

1. if we dont have someone to look up to we might lose our way
2. if we put too much faith in a hero however we might not learn to count on ourself

Identify the adverbs in the following sentences.

3. Paul answered the question quickly.
4. The answer was given too softly.
5. I soon understood what he said yesterday.

Day 32

1. making the right decisions are hard especially when family is involved
2. its hard for people to know what are the right thing to do
3. drama may have developed from the storys people telled at home after they returned from the days hunt

Identify the adverbs in the following sentences.

4. Becky and Pam wanted to know then and there.
5. Why do we misunderstand others so often?