

Monday, February 18, 2013

Week 7

1. skilled in many different kinds of writing gwendolyn brooks poetry is very elegant
2. capturing the rhythm of natural speech is her best talent

Identify the pronouns in the following sentences.

3. She hit him on his head.
4. I saw you at your store.
5. He himself will be our new friend.

Tuesday, February 19, 2013

Week 7

1. i can understand stage fright joe read aloud
2. However he continued if i might could talk into a tape recorder i might not be so scared

Circle the pronouns and underline the antecedents.

3. He ran after his dad.
4. Jennie wanted her doll for bedtime.
5. The rabbit hopped into its hole.

Wednesday, February 20, 2013

Week 7

1. i read the prose poem titled aunt fannie last night and i could relate to it my mother is irish and my father is mexican
2. The culture belend in our house is amazing we eat pot roast with jalapenos

Circle the pronoun and underline the antecedents.

3. They will help you with your work themselves.
4. The teacher gave us homework every day, and she made our lives miserable.
5. The dog stayed in its yard all night instead of coming inside.

Thursday, February 21, 2013

Week 7

1. what does martin espada means when he says this is a rice and beans success story janine pondered
2. it means jacqueline explained that you can come from an ethnic neighborhood and be successful

Identify the pronouns in each sentence.

3. The new car is his.
4. Yours will be here tomorrow.
5. I like theirs best.

Friday, February 22, 2013

Week 7

1. if we dont have someone to look up to we might lose our way
2. if we put too much faith in a hero however we might not learn to count on ourself

Identify the adverbs in the following sentences.

3. Paul answered the question quickly.
4. The answer was given too softly.
5. I soon understood what he said yesterday.